Payment date

17/08/2025

The payment option window is now open.

You have 7 days from the date of this statement to choose how to repay any monthly spend over £30. You can see your options and make your choice using the app. If you don't select any option, we will assume you want to pay back over 12 monthly instalments. This will be reflected in your Requested Payment. Remember, a fee applies for 12 month plans. You'll pay less overall if you choose a shorter plan, remember 3 month plans don't have fees.

If you make any changes during the payment option window your Requested Payment will be updated when the payment option window closes. We will email you to let you know what your new payment will be.

If you don't pay your full Requested Payment amount and you have previously chosen shorter plans, we will change your instalment plans to be paid back on the Minimum Payment basis. This gives you more time to pay us back but will cost you more. You can get more details about how we recalculate your plans in section 8.5 of your terms.

Here is your latest credit card statement - you can see a summary of your account at the top of this page.

If you take no action in the payment option window we will collect £38.80 by Direct Debit on 17/08/2025

If you only make the Minimum Payment on your payment date, we estimate that the fees (interest) that will be applied to your account next month will be £3.51. This estimate assumes you don't make any overpayments or purchases and all your plans are on the Minimum Payment basis - you pay them back over 12 months.

Please note we will still collect your Direct Debit even if you make additional payments.

Your Requested Payment

If you take no action in the payment option window, your Requested Payment this month will be £38.80 due by 17/08/2025

You need to pay this to keep your instalment plans on track.

If you've already set up a Direct Debit, it'll automatically take your Requested Payment.

Minimum Payments

If you cannot pay the Requested Payment you can opt to pay the Minimum Payment of £38.80 which is the lowest amount you can pay back. The Minimum Payment assumes you pay back all your instalment plans over 12 months. It is the most expensive way to repay your spending. It's important to pay this to avoid falling behind on your repayments and impacting your credit score. We calculate your fees in line with the rates shown in the Your Fees Explained section of your statement. You may be able to save money overall by selecting a shorter plan.

If you make only the minimum payment each month, it will take you longer and cost you more to clear your balance.

Full details of how to make your payment, how we allocate payments and more information about your transactions can be found in the Virgin Money Credit Card app and over the next few pages.

If you did not choose a plan during the payment option window last month then any spend you made was put into a 12 month instalment plan. These plans include a fee. You can save money by selecting shorter instalment plan lengths. Remember to consider your options during the payment option window.

All your questions can be answered at virginmoney.com/cardhub.

Important - In September, we'll be changing the reference number you see on Direct Debit payments made to your credit card. There's nothing you need to do and your payments will continue as normal. However, you may receive a notification from your bank once this has happened. For more info head to virginmoney.com/DDchanges

Your fees explained

Fees

Instalment Plan Selected	Instalment Plan Fee %	Annual interest rate*
Pay in 1 instalment	0.00%	0.00%
Pay in 3 instalments	0.00%	0.00%
Pay in 6 instalments	5.00%	10.00%
Pay in 9 instalments	7.50%	10.00%
Pay in 12 instalments	10.00%	10.00%

*You only have to pay the fees shown here. However the law requires us to show you what the fees equal as an interest rate. See below for more detail on this. The annual rate shown is "simple" and "variable". Simple means we don't charge interest on interest. Variable means that the rates could change at some point in future. However, we'd only change them in limited circumstances, as set out in section 19.

How we charge fees

All instalment plan fees are shown in pounds and pence in our mobile app so you can see exactly what you would pay before making decisions.

We may charge you instalment plan fees when you choose to put your monthly balance into an instalment plan. The cost of the plan will vary depending on the amount you're putting into a plan and how long you're taking the plan for.

There is no instalment plan fee if you choose to pay your monthly balance in full or choose a 1 or 3 month plan. If you opt for a 6, 9 or 12 month plan we will charge an instalment plan fee based on the percentages above. All instalment plan fees will be shown in pounds and pence in the mobile app so you can see exactly what you would be paying before you make your decision.

If you chose to repay your balance over 1 or 3 instalments, we will not charge you anything. You will only have to repay the amount you have borrowed.

If you chose to repay your balance over 6, 9 or 12 instalments, we will charge a fee which is a percentage of your balance. The amount of the fees are set out in the table above.

We divide the fee due by the number of instalments you have chosen to make to repay the balance. This gives us a monthly fee. You have to pay the monthly fee so long as your balance is outstanding. If you pay an instalment before the payment date in a month, you will still have to pay the same monthly fee.

If you repay all the balance in fewer instalments than you originally selected, you will only have to pay monthly fees in each month you make a repayment. This means if you repay the balance more quickly, you will pay less. If, because you have repaid some of your balance early, the last payment you need to pay to clear your balance is less than the usual amount, we will make a proportionate reduction in the amount of the monthly fee you have to pay in that last month. The fees you have to pay will never be more than those we tell you about when an instalment plan is set up. We do not charge fees on overdue amounts or on fees.

You only have to pay the fees explained above. However, we have to explain what those fees would be if we called them interest rates. The fees we charge on instalment plans are equal to the interest rates in the table above.

Our fees explained as interest rates

The monthly fees are equal to interest calculated in the following way, using the interest rates set out above.

Interest is calculated using the applicable interest rate on the entire balance. It is calculated on the day your instalment plan is set up for the whole instalment plan period. We assume you pay all your instalments in full and on time. The total interest is then divided by the number of instalments due on your instalment plan to give your monthly interest amount. The monthly interest amount is applied to your outstanding balance each month.

Although the [annual interest rate] for Pay in 6, 9 and 12 options are the same, the actual price you will pay for these plans will be different. This is because the longer you borrow, the more it costs. The fees table above better reflects the actual price you will pay.
